FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Emerio continues to expand its business, with the International Headquarters Award being the latest milestone

Singapore, 21 October 2009 – Emerio GlobeSoft, one of Singapore’s largest privately held IT services companies offering global consulting, technology and outsourcing services is honoured to receive the International Headquarters (IHQ) award conferred by the Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB). This recognition by the Singapore government signifies our success and achievements in building track record growth of 35% CAGR since our establishment and our contribution to the Singapore economy and the IT market through the skills, expertise, integrity and quality we bring to our customers.

Emerio in Singapore is the nerve centre of Emerio’s global network, spearheading the successful acquisition, management and service of regional projects. Since our inception 12 years ago, Emerio now houses more than 1400 employees and is constantly hiring to meet the needs of our customers and the expansion requirements of the company.

Singapore’s strategic location and talented pool of professionals have given Emerio the platform to manage large global projects out of South East Asia. Emerio aims to enhance its competency in Singapore and thereby channel its capability to other regions. Emerio will strengthen its service offerings leveraging on business applications such as SAP and cloud computing, extend our expertise and experience in e-government solutions and business analytics to other Asian markets as well as market software products we have developed over the years.

Emerio will also explore possible acquisitions to propel the growth of the company and work with relevant authorities and strategic partners to hire and train technical graduates from Polytechnics and Universities to enable the creation of intellectual centers of excellence in various technologies such as Mainframe and Java.

“We are very honoured to be conferred with the International Headquarters status,” says Harish Nim, CEO, Emerio GlobeSoft. “We value the support of EDB and the Singapore government for its continuous support in strengthening our undertaking to establish a consistent distinction as a reliable IT services
