Lim Wey-Len
Executive Vice President & Member of the Executive Committee

Singapore Economic Development Board

Mr Lim Wey-Len is an Executive Vice President at the Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB). He oversees EDB's strategy for the Green Economy, which includes developing the energy & chemicals, agrifood, renewables and sustainability services sectors. Additionally, he leads the planning of land and energy resources needed for industries to grow in Singapore.

Wey-Len is also responsible for EDB's investment promotion strategy for Asia, the Middle East and Africa, engaging global enterprises looking to expand their diversified business interests from Singapore.

Since joining EDB in 2003, he has held a variety of leadership roles, including Senior Vice President and Head of the Energy & Resources and the Environmental Sustainability divisions. He was previously based in the USA from 2007 to 2011 and 2013 to 2015 where he led the investment promotion efforts of EDB's San Francisco & Houston centres.

A Glaxo-EDB scholar, Wey-len graduated from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, with a Bachelor of Science in Electrical Engineering and Economics and a Master of Science in Applied Economics. He was awarded the Public Administration Medal (Silver) in 2025.

He is married with two children.
